Candlelight, chalices, mead in horns, one metre long meat skewers, court dancing as well as historical speeches and toasts allow you to experience the Middle Ages. Home-baked Luther bread with lard, afterwards salad, meat and potato soup, bratwurst, meat skewers, chicken legs; side dishes of sauerkraut, cabbage and Middle Age bread dumplings, a flame-broiled fruit skewer and baked apple in wine.

Look over the chef’s shoulder while he is preparing your meal in our open show kitchen.

Dark wood tables, old wagon wheels at the ceiling with clear candlelight, stone floors with straw, mead in horns, beer and wine from chalices as well as historical garments strengthen the illusion of travelling through the Middle Ages. Our maid, farmhands and servants await you.
